IMPORTANT INFORMATION

The FOB (One-Time Password Generator) is considered a last resort option for meeting Electronic Visit Verification (EVV) requirements. Before requesting this device, you must speak with your In-Care Consultant (IC) to determine whether it is the right solution for your situation.

There are two other preferred methods for using KanTime that should be explored first, KMobile V2 App and Telephony. The FOB device should only be used when those options are not suitable.

What Is The FOB?

The FOB (One-Time Password Generator) is a small electronic device used to record an Participant-Hired Workers visit time and date to meet Electronic Visit Verification (EVV) standards. It creates an 8-digit code (FOB code) based on the current time and the device's unique ID.

This device is delivered by iLIFE to the Participants home and is ready to use after a few quick set-up steps.

How To Insert Battery Into FOB Device

This FOB device requires two AAA batteries. The battery insertion steps are explained below.

1. Open the back of the Device.
2. Insert two AAA batteries, making sure they face the correct way (+ and -).
3. Batteries should last about 2 years with normal use (a few buttons presses daily).
4. Make sure batteries are inserted correctly to avoid damage.

Generating the FOB Code

You must get a FOB code at the start and end of your shift. If you perform multiple services, you will need to get a FOB code at the beginning and end of each service completed.

Be sure to have something to write your FOB codes on, along with the Participant, date, time, and service performed for each FOB code check in and check out pair.

1. To generate a FOB code, hold the FOB with the screen facing you and the button on top. This large button on top is Button 1.

Generating the FOB Code

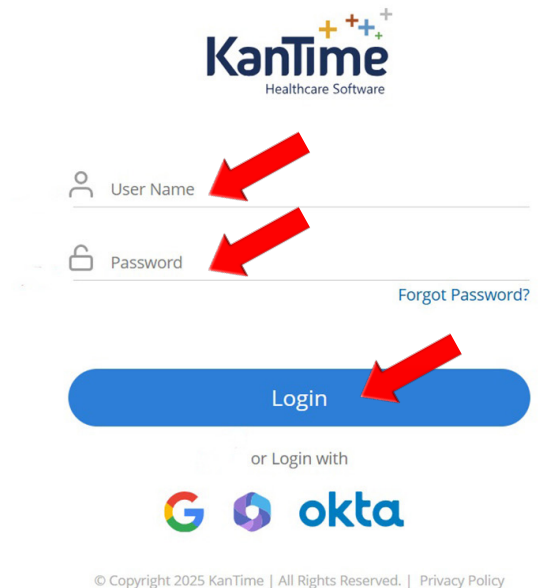

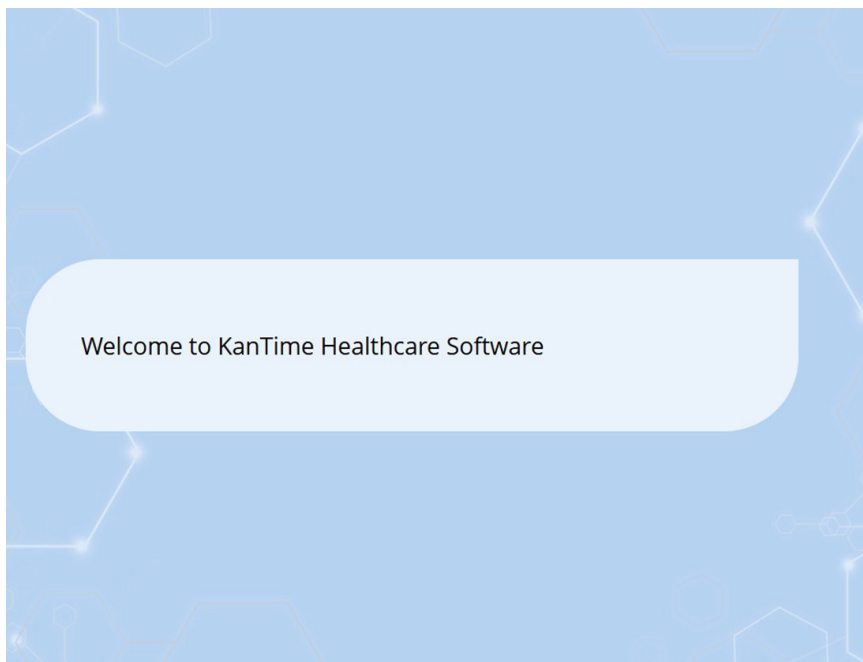

2. When Button 1 is pressed, the LCD screen will flash numbers and then show the FOB code (an 8-digit number). This is the number you will enter for your EVV (electronic visit verification) requirement.
